There were 24 players in all, split up into 4 groups of 6 players each, to 15 points. The top 2 finishers in each group advanced along with one lottery and one auction winner. Those 10 players would play the semi-finals, 2 groups of 5 players each, to 20 points. In order to advance to the final single-elimination rounds, the players needed to finish in the top 2 of their semi-final groups. Then those top 4 players would play single-elimination. The single-elimination rounds were 15 point matches, the best-of-3.

The top 2 in each group advanced along with one lottery winner (Cristobal Sanchez) and one auction winner (Nick Bonavita).

President's Desk

Another day at the USBA and another President, or that might be the way it seems to some. I became President in early June, the fourth person to hold that office in the last year. Some might perceive the change at the top as a sign of chaos. It is not. Let there be no mistake, the USBA is alive and well and growing, as is carom billiards. And I'm excited about the challenges and the future.

We are witnessing the revival of a great game in the United States. Pool halls are adding billiard tables. Sales of billiard tables to individuals have increased dramatically in the last year. The Champion of Champions Tournament in Valley Forge and the USBA National Tournament at the Tropicana in Las Vegas were outstanding successes. Two of our players (Pedro Piedrabuena and Michael Kang) just participated in the three cushion world championship in Lima. A women's international tournament was held in New York, followed immediately by an Open USBA tour event. Several more tour events are scheduled in the next months. The USBA has begun work on next year's national tournament, and we are exploring hosting an international event (perhaps two) next year. Our membership is growing.

Yes, the USBA is strong, but we need your help. Promote the sport. Most of all, introduce younger players to the game: they are our real future.

Andrew Janquitto Elected New President

Interim-President Henry Ugartechea has decided not to stay on as President or Southeast Region Director for personal reasons. Victor Cuzzi, who was serving an interim position in place of Mr. Ugartechea, will stay on as the Southeast Region Director.

The USBA Board of Directors unanimously elected Mr. Andrew Janquitto from Maryland as the new USBA President. Andrew will hold the position until the term expires in March of 2013.

The vote was 10-0 in favor (unanimous). Those voting: Steve Andersen, Tommy Thomsen, Juan Sauz, Raye Raskin, Mazin Shooni, Pedro Piedrabuena, Merrill Hughes, Jim Shovak, Felipe Razon, Victor Cuzzi.

About Mr. Janquitto:

Andy Janquitto learned to play straightrail and balkline from Ely Castleman, a famous Baltimore player. A little over five years ago, he started playing three-cushion billiards. His game is still evolving. When not playing billiards, Andy practices law in the Baltimore, Maryland, area. He is the author of a legal treatise (now in the 3rd edition) and was an adjunct professor of law for a number of years. From 1983 to 1996, he was the head wrestling coach at The Johns Hopkins University. He recently finished writing the manuscript for a non-fiction work entitled: Tricky Dick and the Oleomargarine Heir: The Story of Bogus Butter, the Great Vice Trial and the Hippie Millionaire who Ended the Vietnam War. He lives in Ruxton, Maryland, with his wife, Liz, and his Gabriels Imperator.

Lamers Takes the Dubuque Open II

Defending champion Fred Lamers of Andover, Minnesota, successfully held his crown at the second Dubuque Open, June 10 to 12, 2011. He prevailed over a field of eighteen players from six states at the historic Masonic Temple in downtown Dubuque, Iowa. All the players were members of the U.S. Billiard Association.

Entrants were divided by blind draw into three flights of six for round-robin play. The top two in each flight went on to the final round robin. Games were to 25 points in both the pre-lims and the finals.

In the "Diamond" flight, Lamers and Billy Kim of Chicago advanced with records of 4-1. James Richards of Richfield, Wisconsin, gave Lamers his only loss in the tournament. 25-20, narrowly lost to Kim, 22-25, and suffered two one-point losses to Gary Eake of Oshkosh, Wisconsin and Greg Vavra of St. Paul, Minnesota.

In the "Hearts" flight, tournament director Bob Byrne had only one loss—to fellow-Dubuquer Ed Wedge, 25-17 in 33 innings. Also advancing to the finals with a record of 4-1 was Doug Taber of Wakefield, Nebraska, a history professor at Wayne State University.

Surprise winner of the "Spades" flight was Russ Rosenberger of Gladbrook, Iowa, who lost only to second-place finisher Tom Paley of Fenton Missouri.

The finals began at 9:00 a.m. on Sunday morning. Lamers and Kim advanced through the field without too much trouble; both were undefeated going into the last round against each other. The title game was close and at the end of the 26th inning it was 17-15 in favor of Lamers. Kim managed to make only three more points, as Lamers took the game 25-18 in 38 innings to claim the $650 top prize. Lamers averaged .767 in the finals.

Byrne edged Taber for third on the basis of average. Paley was 5th and Rosenberger 6th. Best game in the finals was Lamers over Paley, 25 points in 23 innings. Lamers also took the $55 prize for high run with an 8 in the same game.

Ed Wedge won $50 for best game out of the money—25 points in 33 innings. The $50 high run prize out of the money was shared by James Richards, Greg Vavra, and Bob Jacobson.

Thanks to Gary Eake and Dale Saunders for scheduling the matches and to Thom Determan for providing snacks and soft drinks. Money was added to the prize fund by Byrne, Wedge, the Minneapolis Billiard Club, an online cue site called cue2u.com, and David Levine of New York City.

The Spin Shot

by Robert Byrne

Contributing Writer • from Byrne's "Advanced Techniques in Pool & Billiards" with permission

The through-the-hole double-the-rail pattern drawn in the diagram is not normally called a spin shot, but it has two characteristics after the cueball leaves the first rail—slow speed and tremendous spin. It is stroked as a force follow with high right-hand English. The speed on the cueball is killed not by the full hit but by the negative angle of approach into the first rail. The action is beautiful because the cueball speeds up after hitting the fourth rail.

I cry real tears for players forced to play on tables with cheap, coarse cloth that takes away many spin shot options. If your proprietor is too cheap to provide imported cloth, I urge you to take up a collection and buy it yourself. Go to a billiard supply store and ask for Simonis (Belgium) or Granito (Spain). Too much greater degree than pool, the pleasure to be derived from three cushion is dependent upon the quality of the equipment. If the rubber on your table is dead and the cloth is cheap or worn out, you might as well go bowling.

Rip's Tips

Two Great Shots?

With cue balls 1/8" apart, the shot on the left is a nice nip stroke force draw shot back along the short rail and out of the corner to the red ball. Using a quick short stroke hit the yellow ball full with slightly elevated cue. Speed and wrist are required. Use 5 o'clock English.

The shot on the right is a nice force follow shot with the cue and yellow balls only 1/8" apart. Using 10 o'clock English stroke perpendicular to the rail with 10 degree elevated cue. A perfect stroke will send the cue ball to the opposite side of the table in a swooping manner diving back to long rail and the remaining spin will score on the red ball. Let us hope that one day all referees and tournament directors will say, "those were great shots!"
